GRADUATING EXERCISES

OF THE COMMERCIAL CLASS OF '95, HILLHOUSE HIGH SCHOOL.

An Interesting Occasion Last Evening at the Hill House—Practical Demonstration of Good Work Done During the Year. The graduating exercises of the commercial class of '95, high school, were held at the high school in room 10 last evening. The exercises consisted of a practical lesson in the studies that go to make up the course and were illustrated by members of the class. The room was filled with friends of the pupils.

On the stage were the graduating class, with Principal Thomas and Instructor George Booth. The exercises were opened by the introductory address given by Principal Thomas, who in a few well chosen words introduced the class. The program was as follows:

Introduction—Principal Thomas.
Bookkeeping—Class.
Penmanship—Class.
Mathematics—Class.
Multiplication (short method)—I. T. Jenks.

Graphic algebra—W. F. Clark.
Stenography (from notes)—Miss B. M. Beebe.

Chemistry experiments—Class.
Stenography—Class.
Typewriting—Class.

The class has a two years' course beside the regular three years' term. The members are as follows:

THE THREE YEAR CLASS.
Misses Beebe, G. White, A. White, Peck, Scallay, Dalley and Mosler and Messrs. Clark, Lynch, Foote, Higgins, Beckley, Murphy and Erickson.

TWO YEARS' COURSE.
Misses Scott, Newbecker, Ford, Schoenbein, Williams, Reynolds, Ritchie, Surdard, Grant, Jenks, Norman and Brautlecht and Messrs. Post, Pierce, Quinn, Eldridge, Dunn, Hickey, Jenks, Spankuch, Farrel, T. Jones, H. Jones, Jente and Bill.

The penmanship was illustrated by the following: Misses Brockle, Williams, Scott, Ford and Newbecker and Messrs. H. Jones, Post, Eldridge, Bill and Quinn. After the above examples of mathematics were given by the class.

The chemistry experiments were performed by Misses Scott and Schoenbein and Messrs. H. Jones, Dunn and Spankuch.

The plan of giving a practical lesson in the studies taken during the course is a good one and brought forth some excellent results. The class was able to perform many practical lessons in business, showing what they had accomplished during the course and the result as a whole is a marked improvement over that of last year's class. Instructor Booth gives a course of study which is a great help to those entering business and has built it up so that it is first class in every detail.

At the close Superintendent Curtis was introduced by Principal Thomas. His remarks were in substance as follows:

"Young Friends—I want to congratulate you and your course of study. We who have not had the privilege offered to you want to congratulate you on your opportunity and also want to see you make the best of it. As this is an age that offers many advantages it expects to obtain better results and therefore much is expected of you."

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Grand Opera House.
A good sized audience witnessed the presentation of Goethe's immortal "Faust" last evening. Though the piece has been seen in this city many times, yet it will pay to see it again, as this company is one of great merit. Joseph Callahan has played the role of Mephisto on many occasions heretofore while under study for Lewis Morrison, and the impersonation of Mr. Morrison's Mephisto was cleverly done by him. Mr. Callahan never appeared to greater advantage than he did last evening, for his own ideas as to the manner in which the role should be played were wedded to the characteristics which have won fame and fortune for the other Mephistos.

The Broken scene particularly excels in thrilling, weird and fantastic spectacles. In this scene, which portrays Faust's visit to hell in company with Mephisto, the appearance of the arch-demon is certainly a noble and terrible thing from his feet, the rocks to move, the trees, embodying human souls, to sway the rock, serps birds of the air, burning with fire, howl and screech, salamanders and dragons roar and fly, some carrying the souls of the damned down to their abiding place. The lost souls wail and repeat their woes, all forming a picture which rivals Dante's marvelous description.

Julian Green made a most excellent Faust. Mr. Corrigan as Valentine was very acceptable. Miss Reah Starr as Marguerite divided honors with the star. She made much of her part and is deserving of special mention for her excellent work.

Miss Lillian Andrews as Dame Martha did finely in her role. Others in the company deserving of notice are Miss Emily Leighton, Miss Frances Bruce, Miss Caroline Cook, Miss Bessie Rogow, Messrs. Cody, Moore, Evans and Denton. There will be a special matinee to-day as well as the regular matinee to-morrow, both at 2 p. m. Matinee prices 10 cents and 20 cents. There will be the regular evening performances.

Poll's Wonderland Theater.
One is at a loss which to admire most at the Poll's, the brilliancy of the bill or the delightfully refreshing coolness of the house. The bill is remarkably strong, and the house is so splendidly ventilated that it is deliciously cool. Vina and Vani, the noted gymnasts lately from France, head the bill, and they easily take the honors. They are certainly a nimble pair, and Miss Vani does things that would be regarded sensational even for a man to perform. Mr. Vernon and Miss Hawthorne present a very amusing and brilliantly clever satire in the ways of old society which they call "Aristocracy." Its every feature being keenly apropos to facts that interest all. The Kins-Ner do some equilibristic. Mr. Kins-Ner balancing a wheel weighing 150 pounds on his chin. Swift and Chase, Miss Ida Howell, Hyams and Collier, the Misses Rice and Halvers, Bert Jordan and George C. Davis also interest and please all with their splendid specialties, making this week's bill attractive to a high degree.

SUICIDE IN WEST HAVEN.

William W. Bayless Blew His Brains Out With a Shotgun.
William W. Bayless, nineteen years old, committed suicide at his parents' home on Richards street, West Haven, yesterday forenoon, by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. He was employed by C. Cowles & Co. in Water street.

He complained of feeling ill in the morning and did not go to work. About 9:30 his mother was startled by the report of a gun in her son's room and hastening there she found him dead in a pool of blood.

He had pointed the weapon at his head and pulled the trigger with his toes. The top of his head was blown completely off.

The young man had on one or two occasions threatened to commit suicide unless he secured more congenial employment. Medical Examiner Barnett believes that he was insane when he committed the act. His father is an inmate of the Middletown Hospital for the Insane.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

Of the New Haven Christian Endeavor Union, Last Evening.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the executive board of the New Haven Christian Endeavor union was held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The meeting was called to order promptly at 7:45 by the president, D. B. Tucker of the Dwight Place society.

The secretary's report showed twenty-four societies represented. The out-of-town societies were especially well represented, delegations being present from Branford, Clintonville, East Haven, Hamden, Westville, Bethany, Highwood, West Haven and Whitesville.

The next meeting of the union will be held with the East Haven Y. P. S. C. E. Wednesday evening, July 24, one week later than usual. President Tucker, who was elected delegate to the Boston '95 convention, will give a report of the convention at that meeting.

Special mention was made of the Boston convention rally, which will be held in the Calvary Baptist church on Wednesday evening of this week. Every New Haven Endeavorer who expects to go to Boston in July should not fail to attend this rally. James F. Williams of Bristol, Conn., who has charge of the Connecticut delegation and excursion train, will be present at that time; also Charles M. Goodrich of Boston, who is a member of the convention committee. It would be well for those who have not already handed their names to Mr. Williams to come prepared to do so that evening.

MANY JURORS SELECTED.

Will Serve in the District, Superior and Common Pleas Court for Ending Year.

At a meeting of the selection, justices of the peace and grand jurors of the town of New Haven held in the city hall last evening 112 jurors were selected to serve in the superior, common pleas and district courts for the ensuing year from September 1. The meeting was called to order by Town Clerk Brethauer, and Town Agent R. E. Baldwin was elected chairman and Frederick L. Averill clerk. Charles H. Baldwin on motion of Attorney Charles H. Fowler appointed a committee of five, composed of F. L. Averill, Joseph B. Cunningham, Luzerne Ludington, Harry W. Asher and John S. Fowler, to select suitable persons to serve as jurors.
